The party at Weimann's Domino Room Washington Heights, to be given for Tra Sun Tobacco Fund, will be held to-morrow night, and to judge by the interest shown it will be a successful affair. It will start with a donation in money from Mr. Weimann and others. Many contributions have been made. There will be dancing and an entertainment, in which the following will assist: Sam Feinberg and his five syncopated dancers Marion Robinson, Louis De Crescent, Ida Lawrence, Ben Rose, Lillian Young, Joseph Schoenberg, Rose Belie and the Russella.

Residents of the Heights have long expressed a wish that some of the beneexpressed a wish that some of the benefit given to the smoke fund should be search home, and they now have an opportunity to enjoy a fine cabaret, dancing and at the same time assist the fund in setting funds for the soldlers' holiday smokes.

To the Knickerbooker Field Club, which has given several entertainments to help The Sun smoke fund. Sergeant G. H. Green of the 102d Field Bakery writes under date of October 18: "On behalf of the members of this organization I wish to thank you for the kind donation of tobacco to us boys through our good friend The Sun Tobacco Fund.

"I should like to tell you all we have been through even at the very time that, as we hear, the papers are talking about peace with the Germans. There has been no sign of it here, and we have made it hot for them. I say 'we,' for a field kitchen and bakery is a pretty gecessary part of a pu-suing outfit. We needed your smokes after the day's work was done, and we will never forget you or The Sun."

In setting funds for the soldlers' holiday smokes.

The Arista Society, made up of members of the British War Mission, have announced a bournament for December 5, at $:30 P. M., in the Brooklyn Riding and Driving Club, Plaza street and Vanderille avenue. H will donate the proceeds for smokes for American soldlers abroad through The Sun. Tobacco Fund.

The programme will open with a grand march, to be followed by a competition of the beginners' class, women only, for which a silver cup is offered. A pig sticking exhibition comes next, and then another competition for a silver cup. The lust exhibition comes next, and then another competition for a silver cup. The Judges will be Col. F. W. Abbot and Col. J. Giffard. Sergeant E. Outhet is the riding master. Admission to the promenade will be 25 cents, to the balcony (seats) 50 cents and box seats $1. PALE PINK FLOWER IS SHOW'S SENSATION

It Appears in Chrysanthemum Exhibition.

A pale pink sport is the sensation at the eighty-seventh annual chrysanthe-mum show of the American Institute and the Chrysanthemum Society of America. This flower, exhibited by Mrs. T. Leslie Davis (Frank Colt, gardener), is a sport on the white Turner, a bloom as big as a baby's head.

The pink blossom appeared quite unexpectedly on one of these plants and Gardener Colt cultivated it assiduously Six of the pink Turners held the place of honor last night at the opening of the show in the Engineering Building, 25

West Thirty-ninth street. Autumn beauties which fill two rooms are as lovely as in pre-war years, but not so many in number: for the florists have felt the war in the shortage of fuel. The number of private exhibitors is cut down, for greenhouses on private estates are naturally most limited as to coal.

The showing of small chrysanthemums is very good this year. W. J. Sealey of Port Chester won a first with a colorful bank of pompons and John G. Pratt a second with the same variety. Prise winners in the short stemmed chrysanthemums are Mrs. E. S. Bayer (Alexander Thomson, gardener). James Fraser of Woodbury, L. I., and Walter J. Jennings. Charles H. Totty Company has a large exhibit of chrysanthemums and other flowers. William C. Rickarts, Jr., of J. M. Thorburn Company is managing the show. It closes to-morrow night.

Mr. Davenport has a manner that is all his own, and it is one that constantly stimulates interest even when most cryptic and balling. The curtains last night proved especially startling and enigmatic. His expedient of having a woman discover an intrigue of her hus-band's when interviewing a maid who had been employed by the adventuress was one of the original turns. It was an extraordinary coincidence, but one nevertheless that carried a certain con-

CALLS FOR REVENGE

Noted Irish Surgeon Opposes "Turning of Other Cheek" to Germans.

At a dinner given at Delmonico's last night by the American College of Sur-geons to medical representatives of the allied armies there was heard the voice of that part of Ireland which has been on the right side of the war since the conflict began demanding a blood atonement from the Boche. The voice was that of Col. Sir Thomas Myles, in peace time president of the Boyal College of Surgeons of Ireland. He asked his hearers to give him a vote there should be no "turning of the other cheek" and that the Boche should be re-quired to pay through the nose before the armies at war with him consent to stack arms and call the fighting done.

"I can think of no better speech to make," he said, "than to tell you that 5.00 this afternoon I visited a New York club and read the files of the London papers containing the account of the sinking of the Leinster. I will not at-

Mrs. Gladys Mary Moore, the Mary $138.000-or anything at all-to Mrs Cora Carrington Wilkening, theatrical and literary agent, out of her admitted earnings of $1,000,000 for the last two years from the Pickford Film Corporation, which Mrs. Wilkening says she was instrumental in having sign a contract with the movie sprite for a weekly sal-ary of $10,000 and a bonus of $200,000. The jury, which has been staggered somewhat with testimony of the fab-ulous income of the defendant, was or-dered last night to return a scaled verdered last night to return a scaled ver-dict in the case this morning.

Benjamin Hampton, vice-president of the American Tobacco Company, testi-fied yesterday that the plaintiff was cor-rect in her statement that she had brought about a meeting between him-self and Miss Pickford which resulted in his offers the resulted in his offer to the winsome Mary of $10,000 a week for eighty-five weeks and a bonus. He was not certain whether Mrs. Wilkening had released him in writing from paying her a com-mission for her services in this connec-tion. He was sure, however, that the contract was sure, nowever, that the contract was never consummated.

Adolph Zukor of the Pickford Film Corporation was quite certain that he did business with Miss Pickford independently of Mrs. Wilkening's assistance. Mrs. Wilkening had testified that she in-duced the witness to give the defendant the alluring terms stated.

The defence was hit rather hard when Justice Delehanty ruled that the jury might consider in connection with the alleged Zukor contract the admitted agreement between Mrs. Wilkening and Miss Pickford to pay the former 5 per cent of $24,200 guaranteed by the Mc-Clure syndicate for a biographical sketch of the motion picture actress.

The central figure in the prosaic proceedings took deep interest in the charge of the court and frequently plucked her mother's sleeve, especially when refer-ence was made to her income.

Prohibitionists Now List 88 States in Favor of Federal Amendment.

Special Despatch to THE SUN WARRINGTON, Nov. 6 .- Ratification of the prohibition amendment to the Federal Constitution within the ensuing year or eighteen months was confidently pre-dicted here to-night by Prohibitionist turns from five States, incomplete though they were in some instances, indicated the success of the "dry" cause. They were Ohio, Minnesota, Florida, Wyom-ing and Nevada.

According to calculations of the National Temperance Legislative Bureau this victory for the Prohibitionists means that the total number of potential supporters of the constitutional amendment among the States to-day is thirty-eight, pressure upon the Legislatures of States heretofore wet and still wet has obtained the ratification of the amendment in five, which added to the thirty-three, carries the prohibition movement "over the top."

The Constitution requires the HYLAN COAL CENSUS of the Union to ratify a Constitutional amendment. Thirty-six States constitute the necessary three-quarters, hence the jubilation on the part of the probi-bitionists to-day.

In addition to the success noted on the direct question of "wot" versus "dry" in Ohio. Florida, Minnesota, Wyoming and Nevada, the early returns from Cali-fornia's State Legislature election indi-cated that a majority of that body is pledged to vote for ratification of the Federal amendment. In the circumstances the prohibition-ists were quite enlivened at the prospect that certainly within two years, if not within one, the cause of nationwide pro-hibition will have been won.
